

SPLIT MENACES DEMOCRATS

Here and There

Editorial By ALEX. H. WASHBURN

WITH the first winning football team in many a year, Hope will see the largest crowd in its history turn out for the game against Prescott here Friday night. There will be hundreds of visitors backing the Prescott team. We owe them friendly treatment and courteous Southern hospitality. Many have patronized the Hope games all season. This also is a game Friday night—not a battle-royal. Let's remember that.

Wood Fuel Voted by City Council for Power Plant

Price Fixed at $1.90 for Pine, $2.15 for Oak, Delivered

HAUL BY CONTRACT

Police Scored for Collapse of Street Tax Collections

Hope city council voted Thursday night to authorize the burning of wood fuel under the boilers of the municipally-owned water and light plant.

The maximum cost of wood was fixed as follows:

For split pine: $1.90 per cord delivered at the wood-yard.

For oak: $2.15 per cord, also delivered at wood-yard.

Wood-hauling from the yard to the plant is to be advertised for contract bids, at not to exceed 50 cents per cord. Contractors must have $2,000 bonds.

All wood purchases must be of Hempstead county timber.

One hauler at the municipal plant will continue to be fired by gas.

The discovery that only 66 persons have paid street tax due in October led to a motion to repeal the tax and refund their money to these 66, but the motion was defeated 5 to 3.

Critical aldermen pointed out that back in 1923 a town marshal collected $2,557 in street tax. In 1924 the amount was $1,513. In 1925 it was $2,269—but in 1926 it fell to $1,018.

For the full collections this year the total is $165, the aldermen said, scoring the police department.

Swift Co. Opens a Food Sale in Hope

Combines With Local Grocers in Feature for November 10-17

The Swift Packing company and a group of Hope grocers have combined to put on a food sale in Hope during the week of November 10 to 17. Elsewhere in this paper they are running a page advertisement, featuring Swift's products.

These grocers invite the public to call on them during this sale and take advantage of the special bargains they are offering on Swift's products.

The success of Swift & Co. has been due to the service rendered by it to producers, retailers and consumers over a long period of years.

The distribution system used by the company is a highly efficient one. Meats and dairy and poultry products are shipped in the same refrigerated cars. All of these products are sold to a retail grocer by one salesman—not a dozen salesmen, each selling one product. Instead of a dozen trucks being used to deliver a dozen products, one truck delivers all of them to the same store.

J. J. O'Connor is the representative of Swift & Company in this territory. His headquarters are in Texas.

England Rejects Munitions Probe

Parliament Dislikes Methods Followed in U. S. A. Quiz

LONDON, Eng.—(AP)—A labor motion for abolition of private manufacture and trade in armaments was defeated in the House of Commons Thursday night. The vote was 279 to 68.

Sir John Simon, foreign secretary, made it clear that the British government would not permit an inquiry after the fashion of the recent United States Senate committee's investigation into armaments.

Liberal speakers urged such an inquiry but Sir John said methods used in the United States "would not comment themselves to British practice." Labor apparently abandoned recent demands for the inquiry.

Several years ago there was trouble on the old Hope field at the Fair grounds, in a game with DeQueen. Don't spoil this season's playing record by a demonstration which would make law-abiding fans so disgusted they wouldn't care whether Hope or Prescott won.

Two weeks ago Louisiana sent a great delegation of fans to Nashville, Tenn., to see the L. S. U.-Vanderbilt game. A hot-headed Vanderbilt student editor wrote in his newspaper that the Louisiana guests were "rowdies." But it appears that they were in fact the least rowdy of any crowd in Nashville, Tenn., this season. Police said so. Vanderbilt's student body said so. And finally a stiff-necked student editor apologized for what he had unjustly written.

Things like that don't do football any good. They belittle the boys who are doing their best out there on the field. Let's beat Prescott (even as they have beaten us for many a year) but let's show the Prescott fans that Hope is worthy of a big new stadium and a winning team.

Peter A. Deisch, lobbyist for the "Grab Amendment" (No. 21) which was voted down decisively last Tuesday, is mad at the newspapers. He thinks they beat the four-year-term proposal.

Deisch is particularly mad at the Little Rock newspapers. He thinks they, more than any other newspapers, beat his proposition. So he says his next move will be to put a tax of 6 per cent on everything taken in by a newspaper of more than 20,000 circulation. That would affect the Little Rock papers only.

Our feelings are hurt. Mr. Deisch has ignored us. The Arkansas Gazette does have great editorial influence—but 124 miles from Little Rock it is spread very thin.

Mr. Deisch will make a terrible mistake if he puts the Gazette out of business and neglects to do something about the smaller fry—The Star in Hempstead county, for instance, and the DeQueen Citizen and Bee, in Sevier county, as another instance. They don't do him any good, to say the least.

So we think Mr. Deisch, if he hasn't already drawn his newspaper tax bill, ought to draft it, counting in the smaller papers, too.

There's going to be a lot of glory in this business of fighting Mr. Deisch—and it isn't going to cost anybody a cent.

If Mr. Deisch weren't so busy drawing pay as a lobbyist to worry the newspapers, who have to fight him free of charge, he would know that every publishing house not only pays every tax everyone else pays, but also has to report elections and other official business free of any additional cost to the public.

No American government has the right to single out newspapers alone for taxation, any more than it has the right to censor or close them down—a fact known to everyone in Arkansas except Mr. Deisch.

Toll-Gate Keeper Is Slugged and Robbed

CLARENDON, Ark.—(AP)—W. T. Bonner, 65, toll-gate keeper at the White river state bridge here, was slugged into unconsciousness Thursday night and robbed of $55 by a lone bandit.

A party of hunters found Bonner and notified officers, who are searching for the assailant Friday.

Prescott-Hope Kickoff at 8 o'Clock

Greatest Crowd of Season Will See Grid Classic

Hope Heavy-Odds Favorite—But Curly Wolves Will Be Inspired

PEP MEET IS HELD

Hope Has Won 5, Lost 2—Prescott Victor in 3, Loser in 4

Hope's gridiron classic, the Bobcat versus the Curly Wolves of Prescott, will be played here Friday night. The opening kickoff is slated for 8 o'clock. Hope and Prescott fans will turn out en masse to see the two teams clash in a game doped to go to Hope but with a "you-never-can-tell" phase attached to the predictions of dopesters.

Prescott, as in past years, should play its best ball when opposing the Bobcat grid machine.

Coch Foy Hammons, reluctant to believe that the struggle is going to be easy, has drilled his men for the past week in passing, interspersed with a few new ground plays to use against the Curly Wolves.

Miss Floy Mac Weisner will reign as queen over the game for Hope. Her maids will be Misses Jane Orton, Pauline H. Jones, Audra Porterfield and Allene Allen.

Prescott Queen

The Prescott queen will be Miss Frances Guthrie. Her maids are: Misses Martha McGough, Ernestine Lavender, Lorene Watts, Olea Wilson, Amy Bostick and Agnes Smith.

A pep-meeting and bon fire was staged Thursday night on the grounds of the old high school building, followed by a parade, to arouse enthusiasm.

Tickets are on sale at Moreland's drugstore, Hope Confectionery, Jacks news stand, Greene's Confectionery and Webb's news stand. They may be purchased at the regular price, 50 cents.

Coch Foy Hammons announced that his starting lineup would be: Anderson and Captain Kennedy at ends; Moore, Hobbs or Stone at tackles; Holly, center.

In the backfield will be: Payne, Turner, Stroud and Spears.

The Prescott starting lineup could not be obtained.

5 Victories to Date

The Bobcats have five impressive victories thus far against two setbacks. The Curly Wolves have triumphed three times and have lost four games.

The Prescott record: Prescott 13, Smuckover 6, Prescott 0, Old Springs 26, Prescott 14, Waldo 0, Prescott 0, Nashville 30, Prescott 0, Clarendon 32, Prescott 6, El Dorado 53, Prescott 7, Guion 6.

Officials were announced as: Referee, Ed Cole, University of Arkansas; Umpire, Bill Brazier, Ouachita; Headlinesman, Summerville, Henderson State Teachers.

Gas Tax Rate Cut Urged by Oil Men

Grady Forgy Declares High Arkansas Tax Is Hurting Tourist Trade

Grady Forgy of Little Rock, flayed Arkansas' high gasoline tax rate in a speech here Thursday night at a meeting of the Hempstead County Oil Dealers association. Mr. Forgy is secretary of the state association.

He urged that the Hempstead body co-operate with other county associations over the state in urging a reduction in gasoline taxes, and to fight any proposal suggested as a hike in rates.

He declared that Arkansas was missing much tourist business, due to the high gasoline rate. He said that travelers were purchasing only enough gas to carry them into adjoining states, Missouri, Texas, and Louisiana where a smaller tax rate exists.

R. B. Tatum of Little Rock, and Terrell Cornelius of this city, spoke last.

The program was opened by Sid Burdick, who introduced the principal speaker, Mr. Forgy.

A banquet was staged and was followed by singing, with E. P. Young of Hope, leading. Out-of-town oil dealers and guests were:

Floyd Pender, Harry S. Steele, Aubrey Smith and W. N. Sanderson of Ashdown; Joe Henry Paulk, J. H. Francis, Ray Stanton, Troy Rhodes and Clyde Wells of Prescott.

Otis Townsend of Emmet, W. P. Javani and W. A. Kennedy of Waldo, B. B. Tatum and Grady Forgy of Little Rock.

The meeting was held at Luck's Tourist court.

Flag-Button Sale of Auxiliary Is to Be Held Saturday

Pre-Armistice Day Drive Will Aid Veterans' Families

SUPPORT IS URGED

Auxiliary Women Appeal to Hope Public to Give Saturday

The annual flag-button sale of the Armistice-day season will begin in Hope early Saturday morning, the committee of the American Legion Auxiliary announced Friday.

Proceeds of the flag-button sale everywhere will go to the support of World war veterans' orphans, widows and families.

A spokesman for the Hope Auxiliary made this appeal for Saturday's drive:

"Sixteen years ago the Armistice was signed, which meant peace for the world. But as yet there has been no compromise with hunger and hardship. They still exist everywhere. So today our service is civilian service, just as far-reaching as any wartime service.

"Armistice day, November 11, is our red letter day—the day for a display of real patriotism. It presents an opportunity to drive home a worthwhile lesson.

"So we offer our flag-button sale, to be held Saturday, November 10. The proceeds from this sale are the Auxiliary's only means of carrying on child welfare work.

"The orphans of World war veterans, the underprivileged children of World war veterans, and the wives and families will rejoice if this sale is successful, for upon the proceeds depends their comfort during the winter months—and all members of the Auxiliary are concentrating their efforts on this sale."

Democrats Win in 3-4ths of Offices

Obtained 15 Million of Total Vote of 28 Million Tuesday

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The emphatic manner in which the electorate approved the New Deal Tuesday echoed Thursday in White House talks looking toward permanence of some of the policies it represents.

A Democratic victory so overwhelming as to give them, roughly, four-fifths of the major electoral offices in the country, late Thursday left the standing:

House, Democrats 321; Republicans 103; Farmer-Labor 3; Progressive 7; undecided 1.

Senate: Democrats 69; Republicans 24; Farmer-Labor 1; Progressive 1; undecided 1.

Governors, Democrats 38; Republicans 8; Farmer-Labor 1; Progressives 1.

Out of a popular vote of 28,400,000, the Democrats had 15,300,000. Eliminating votes that went for the minor parties, the Democrats had better than a 3,000,000-vote edge over the Republicans.

School Problem First in the Heart of the American People

School Writer Takes Education Week as Opportunity to Study Vast Changes in Methods of Teaching

It has been well said that—"Education has come to be nearer to the hearts of the American people than any other single public interest."

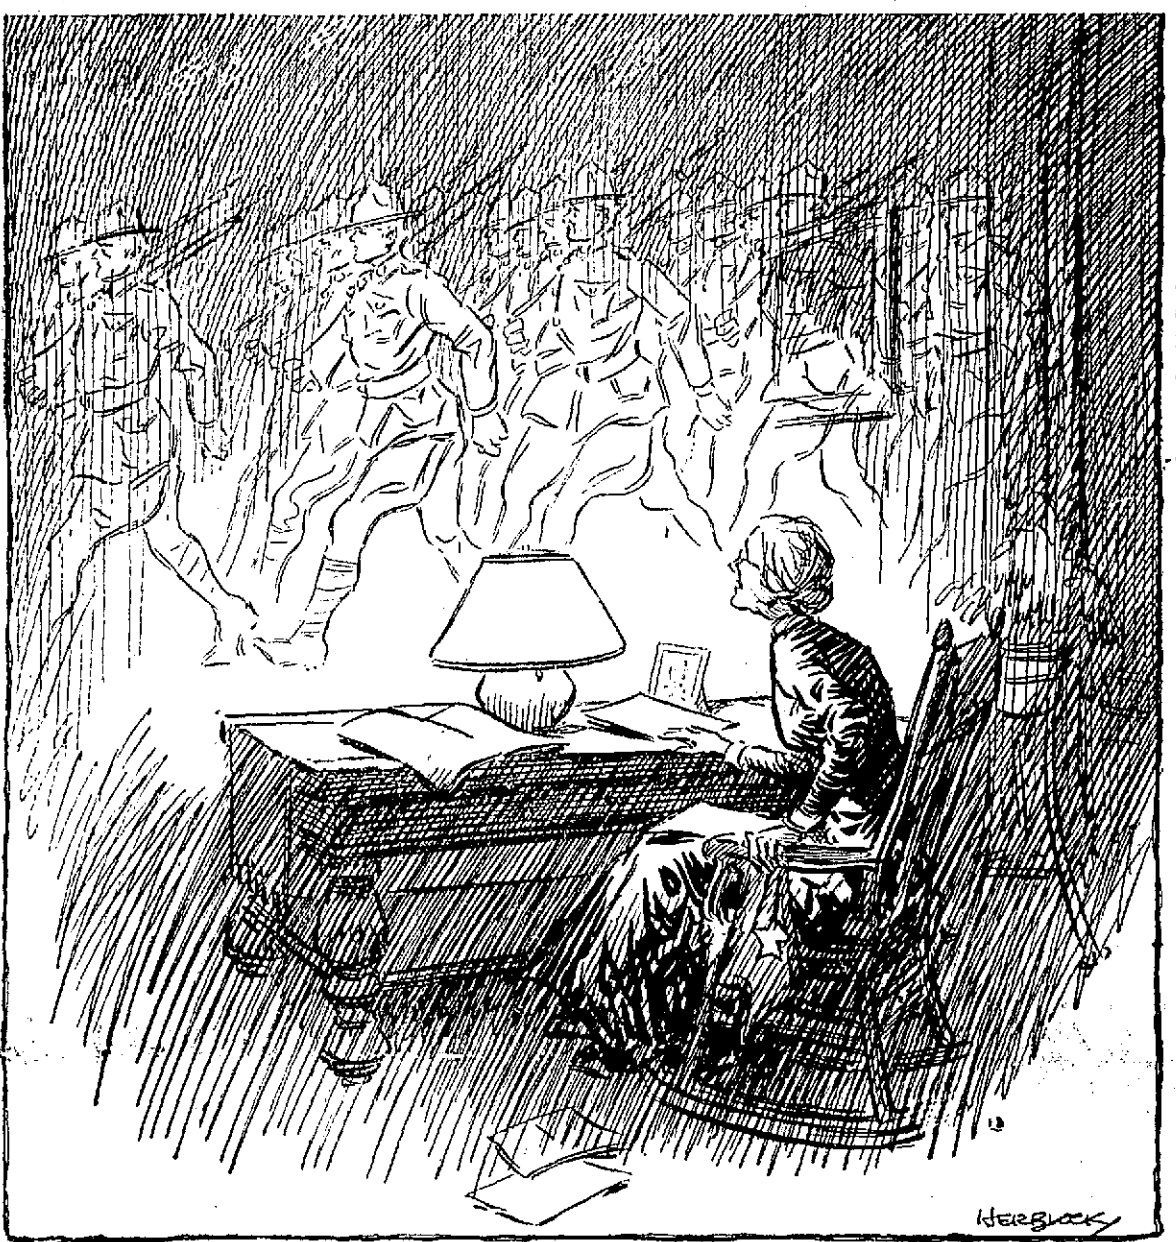

But how different is our education of today compared to that of our grandfathers and grandmothers, used to go miles to learn reading and writing and arithmetic in the little old log school house! We have added much of interest, of worth, and of pleasure. We are realizing more and more that education is indeed the "bulwark of our nation."

The adequate education of youth is one of the few paramount duties of an enlightened government. Education is an equipment for worth-while living. It places upon the possessor the obligations to make use of it for the best interests of his fellows. It is the mainstay of our national security.

A stands for achievement. What have you done? Were you winner or loser. When the race had been won?

Bearden Appoints Lewis No. 1 Deputy

Sheriff-Elect Warns Operators of Slot-Machines in County

Appointment of W. A. Lewis of Hope as his chief office deputy, was announced Friday by Sheriff-Elect Jim Bearden.

Mr. Lewis is well known in Hope and over the county, having been connected with Hope Furniture company as bookkeeper for 20 years.

He was a candidate for the sheriff's office in the first Democratic primary last August.

Appointment of R. O. Robbins of near Ozan, as jailer, was also made public by Mr. Bearden. Other appointments will be announced later, he said.

Asked what his attitude would be toward operation of slot machines, marble machines and other gambling devices over the county, Mr. Bearden replied:

"I have had several inquiries about that. I want to say that they must go. All slot machines and all other gambling devices found in operation in Hempstead county after the first of the year will be confiscated," he declared.

Persimmon Timber Shipped From Hope

Local Hardwood for Golf-Club Shafts Rated Best in South

A carload of persimmon logs, ranging in diameter from 10 to 24 inches, will leave here Saturday for Memphis where they will be manufactured into golf clubs, golf shafts, loom shuttles and other hard-wood articles by the Persimmon Specialties company.

The shipment is believed to be the second of its nature ever to leave Hempstead county. The logs are being shipped by G. W. McDowell & Sons, timber dealers. The market price, Mr. McDowell said, is $50 per thousand feet for No. 1 logs and $40 for No. 2's.

The logs were cut in the Little River bottoms, northwestern Hempstead county. The Memphis office reported that persimmon timber of Hempstead county was of the highest quality to be found in the South.

The first shipment, made two years ago by Mr. McDowell, brought him a higher price than quoted by the Memphis concern, due to the qualities found in the persimmon logs of this section.

Relief Graft Is Hit by Senator Borah

WASHINGTON—(P)—Senator Borah Friday demanded an investigation by the president or congress of the administration of relief expenditures, asserting there was shameful waste in the doling out of funds.

Borah did not say so specifically, but inferred that relief money in many cases had gone for political purposes.

Crosnoe Appeals to Supreme Court

Hope Man Returns Home From Warren Under Bond of $4,000

Charles Crosnoe, convicted Wednesday afternoon by a jury in Bradley county circuit court on a charge of arson, filed notice of appeal to the Arkansas supreme court Friday and was released under $4,000 bond.

He returned home here Friday. Confronted by the press for a statement concerning the trial, Crosnoe replied that he had "nothing to say."

Crosnoe was represented by Attorney Julius Clary of Warren and Steve Carrigan of Hope.

In the meantime a jury at Warren deliberated the fate of Ben F. Wilson of Minden, La., one of six men held in connection with the burning of a cotton gin at Banks, Ark., last spring.

Wilson's trial started Thursday. Testimony was completed that night and arguments were heard Friday morning. The case went to the jury at 11 o'clock, telephone messages from Warren to The Star said. The jury was still out at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Jesse Hutson of Hope, who pleaded guilty Thursday and drew a three-year sentence, remained in jail at Warren.

Thomas Crawford of Hope, also pleaded guilty. Sentence is expected to be pronounced following the Wilson trial.

Chris Wheaton, Hope negro, pleaded guilty two months ago. At present he is serving a five-year sentence in the penitentiary.

France Moves to Forestall Rioting

New Flandin Cabinet Acts Quickly to Avert National Crisis

PARIS, France.—(P)—The swiftly organized cabinet of Pierre Etienne Flandin, France's new premier, forged ahead of the spectre of national strife Friday.

The country at large watched quietly as the cabinet took the oath from President LeBrun.

Losing no time, Flandin called the ministers to work on a program which will be submitted to parliament next Tuesday. Its chief plans are economic revival and a reduction in the numbers of unemployed.

The public is apparently satisfied and no violent disorders followed the downfall of the Doumergue cabinet.

Northern Party in Drive for Speaker Against the South

Tammany Hall Complains Southerners Have Obtained Too Much

FARLEY IS JUBILANT

WASHINGTON—(P)—The first sign of internal rivalry in the Democratic party since Tuesday's victory came to its highest pinnacle of power appeared Friday as certain Democrats north of the Mason and Dixon line opened a determined drive to capture the speakership of the House of Representatives, for which the South is also contending.

Representative Martin J. Kennedy, Tammany Hall Democrat who disclosed the drive, said he believes New York is entitled to the speakership.

Declaring that the South has been in the saddle in the house four years because it held a majority of the leadership and chairmanships of all major committees, these Democrats ask more power.

They emphasize that the Northern Democrats now have more seats than the South.

James Farley, Democratic chairman, predicted that Roosevelt would be re-elected in 1936 by a practically unanimous verdict and said the Republican party is "positively through."

Tree-Approach Is Proposed for City

Memorial to Arkansas 1936 Centennial Suggested for Every City

A proposal to back up Arkansas' plans for celebrating the 100th anniversary of her statehood in 1936 by planting memorial trees on the approaches to all cities and towns on the Broadway of America, was laid before the Rotary club Friday by A. H. Washburn.

Mr. Washburn said that The Star several months ago had asked George W. Ware, director of the Fruit & Truck Branch Experiment Station, to prepare plans and cost estimates for running a line of trees on both sides of the right-of-way on highway No. 67 to the Missouri Pacific viaduct east of town, and the same thing a mile out on the western approach to Hope.

Mr. Ware was quoted as estimating the total cost at about $250, which Mr. Washburn proposed be raised jointly by the Rotary, Kiwanis and Garden clubs, the Legion and other community organizations, including a contribution from the newspaper.

The speaker urged that Hope inaugurate this program, and Terrell Cornelius, of the Broadway of America association, suggested the sending of committees up No. 67 to persuade each town to do the same for its highway approaches.

The program would have to get under way this fall in order to allow even a fast-growing tree like the Lombardy Poplar to make a suitable show during the Centennial year after next.

Mr. Cornelius, the Rev. Thomas Brewster and Albert Graves, club president, discussed club programs, membership and classification, in talks Friday.

Mr. Graves said he had tendered the high school the services of any Rotarians who might be invited to the classrooms to speak on vocational themes before the students.

Horace McKenzie, president of the Prescott Rotary club, was a visitor at Friday's luncheon in Hotel Barlow.

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

Anemia Sets in When Blood Isn't Restored

About 3 per cent of the red blood cells in your body are destroyed and replaced every day. The production plant for new blood cells is the bone marrow.

Ordinarily, if for a short time there is an increased destruction of blood cells, the production plant speed up and is able to take care of the loss. If, however, the loss becomes too great, production can't keep up with it and you soon become anemic.

Anemia is caused in one of three ways—direct loss of blood by hemorrhage, destruction of blood inside the body by disease, and failure of the body to produce new blood.

One of the chief purposes of the blood is to carry oxygen throughout the body. Oxygen is drawn into the body as part of the air that passes into the lungs. From the lungs the blood carries oxygen to the tissues in all parts of the body.

The red blood cell contains a substance called hemoglobin, which is able to give it off again. In anemia the number of red blood cells and the amount of hemoglobin are greatly reduced.

That is one of the reasons why people who are anemic feel cold, weak, and seem to lack energy. When the body lacks suitable amounts of oxygen, there is short, rapid breathing. Usually, whenever there is hemorrhage, the tissues of the body that are concerned with developing blood promptly develop enough new blood to take care of the loss that has occurred. The time required even after a fairly large hemorrhage is only a few weeks.

In case of very large hemorrhages, however, it is customary to give a blood transfusion and thus to restore the blood value promptly.

In cases of diseases which destroy the blood, such as cancer or leukemia or serious infections, it is customary to discover the cause and to remove the cause.

Measures directed at the blood will not be successful. There are, however, certain kinds of anemia in which the blood simply fails to develop new blood cells to take the place of those that are worn out.

Fortunately, it has been discovered that there are certain substances which will stimulate the blood-forming organs, when they are failing to keep up their work, and overcome the anemic condition. In some cases the trouble seems to lie in the fact that the stomach has lost the ability to secrete the acid needed for suitable digestion.

When the stomach juices act on certain foods, particularly on meat products, such as lean meat and liver, a substance is developed which stimulates the formation of red blood cells. It also serves to liberate iron in a form which can be used by the blood to build hemoglobin.

Iron can be given directly in the form of a medicine which will help to overcome some forms of anemia. In others, liver extract can be given by mouth or by injection and serves to aid the development of red blood cells in an amount sufficient for the needs of the body.

This new knowledge of the nature and treatment of anemia has come to be one of the greatest discoveries of modern medicine. For their work in connection with controlling anemia the American investigators, Minot, Whipple, and Murphy, have just received the Nobel prize.

Shows Seamy Side of England's Rule

This Novel Is Bitter About the "White Man's Burden"

BY BRUCE CATTON

You get a look at the seamy underside of the white man's burden in "Burmese Days," by George Orwell. Here is a novel which de-Kiplingizes the British empire in a savage and bitter manner. It examines this business of carrying the torch to the backward lands, and concludes that the torch is used chiefly for setting fire to the natives' houses.

A Postman's Lot Is Not a Happy One

Neglect Discussed by Revivalist Here

Hebrews 2:3 Furnishes Text for Mrs. Beasley Thursday

The word "Neglect" taken from Hebrews 2:3, "How shall we escape if we neglect so great Salvation," was the basis of Mrs. Beasley's message Thursday night.

"The writer of the epistle to the Hebrews urges that 'We ought to give the more earnest heed to the things which we have heard.' Job also asks the question 'If a man die shall he live again?' 'We cannot escape the fact that man does live after this life.' 'Neglect is one of the most prominent sins of this age. John gives a wonderful description of heaven in Revelations. If we are so unfortunate as to miss heaven it will be because we have neglected to love and serve Christ. God never did and never will send a soul to hell. If you go there, it will be after you have disregarded your mother's prayers, failed to heed the divine warnings of your pastor, after you have spurned the Holy Spirit of God, and you will have to acknowledge justness of your own damnation. You neglected or just would not.

The Claw of the Forgotten Murder

by CARLETON KENDRAKE

Copyright 1934 NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
When CHARLES MORDEN, reporter for "The Blade," is found dead DAN BLEEKER, publisher, employs SIDNEY GRIF, famous criminologist, to solve the murder. MORDEN had been investigating the affairs of FRANK B. CATHAY, wealthy and prominent following the arrest of an impostor claiming to be CATHAY and accompanied by a girl called MARY BRIDE.

The day following MORDEN's death CATHAY dies of poisoning. GRIF leaves MORDEN and visits the apartment of ALICE LORTON who has reported the disappearance of her roommate, ESTHER OUDWAY. GRIF questions Alice and instructs detectives to shut down here.

GRIF and Bleeker go to the apartment occupied by KENNETH MOON, friend of Alice's. Alice is there. GRIF accuses the pair of killing MORDEN and calls police headquarters. He and Bleeker then go to an address where MRS. CATHAY and RACINE, a detective, are employed, are conferring with MRS. BLANCHIE MALONE. When GRIF tells Mrs. Alice Lorton has been arrested Mrs. Malone screams.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XXXII
MRS. CATHAY stood perfectly still, her head thrown back, her chin in the air. Her manner was that of having steeled herself against showing any emotion.

The woman who had given her name as Blanche Stanway strode toward GRIF.

"You lie!" she screamed. "You're a dirty liar!"

GRIF continued to watch Mrs. Cathay.

Racine had tiptoed to the door of the room. He jerked it open, said to Mrs. Cathay, "Come on. Let's get out of here. He's trying to keep us here. He's stalling for time."

Blanche Stanway stopped within a couple of feet of GRIF. Her face was twisting with emotion. The corners of her hard, defiant mouth turned down. Tears came to her eyes. She broke into harsh sobs.

Mrs. Cathay swept toward the door which Racine was holding open, but the detective did not wait for her to join him. He turned toward the corridor, took half a dozen rapid steps and then broke into a run. His feet could be heard thudding down the corridor.

GRIF said in a low voice to Mrs. Stanway, "I'm sorry."

She looked at him through tear-filled eyes, took a proper step toward him, dropped her head to his shoulder and clung to his coat with the work-worn fingers of leathery hands.

GRIF patted her shoulders reassuringly.

"There, there," he said, "it's going to be all right. See . . . my . . . lawyer . . . you cheap heel!"

IN the taxicab GRIF seemed in high spirits.

"Observe, Bleeker," he said, "what an interesting thing the truth is. Falsehood may be built up which seem to have the appearance of truth, but they have no foundation to back them. They are like mirages, like the fronts of structures which are used in motion picture sets. They look all right when viewed from one angle but have nothing back of them, if one will but take pains to view them from all sides."

Bleeker's tone was gruff.

"Those things photograph well enough to deceive everyone who sees them," he said.

"Certainly," the criminologist agreed, "if one but looks at the photograph. That is why it is always so vitally important to look at the object itself and to look at it from all angles."

"The truth is like some placid sheet of water. Some extraneous fact is dropped in it and immediately the calm surface becomes ruffled. The reflections become distorted."

Bleeker turned to him savagely. "That stuff doesn't interest me in the least," he said. "I want to know what happened. I think you know. I want you to tell me. After all, I'm running a newspaper. I want to avenge the death of one of my men but incidentally I'm interested in getting news while it's news. After you prowl around here interviewing everyone in sight the thing will become history."

GRIF shook his head and his smile held just a faint trace of superiority.

"No, Bleeker," he said, "it will not become history. Mind you, these little things are but straws that show the way the wind blows, and yet I fancy there is no one connected with the case who has taken the trouble to follow the direction of those straws to their logical conclusion—unless, perhaps, it was this man MORDEN. I'm going to regret all my life that I never had the chance to talk to him. I'm never going to be able to find out whether he reasoned his way to the correct solution or blundered on it."

BLEEKER objected, "I still don't see that he did anything that was so remarkable. Let's admit he showed resourcefulness in locating the garage in which CATHAY's car had been stored. It probably, however, was more a matter of luck than of skill. He was able to direct him to the apartment where CATHAY was calling."

"That's true, of course," GRIF admitted readily enough. "I agree with you on that, Bleeker."

"But," Bleeker went on, "that was all he did."

GRIF shook his head.

"No, my friend," he said, "you overlook the evidence. You overlook the facts."

"Are they," demanded Bleeker, "facts that I know?"

"Facts that you yourself told me with your own lips," GRIF said. "The deadly significant facts. The thing that all of this case hinges upon, and yet no one has ever suspected."

Bleeker's tone was savage.

"What the devil are you trying to do?" he asked. "Impress me with something? Do you want to make a grandstand finish like a magician, pulling a rabbit out of a hat? Because if you do, I'm here to tell you that that stuff doesn't

Declamation Elimination for District Contest November 16

The elimination contest in oratory and declamations will be held at Yerger High School Friday night at 7:45.

The contest is preparatory to the district contest which will be held here November 16. The program will also contain several musical numbers from choruses selected for the occasion, as well as vocal solos.

From the interest shown by the various classes participating, a large crowd is expected to attend. Principal H. C. Yerger will have some important announcements to make during the program.

A little more persistence, courage, vim! Success will dawn o'er fortune's golden rim. Then take this honey for the bitterest cup—There is no failure, save in giving up. Those of us who remember Hope in its village days, and have watched the village grow into one of the most progressive and flourishing towns in the state were deeply impressed on Thursday afternoon in seeing that growth beautifully demonstrated at the opening of the A. D. Middlebrooks Grocery store at its new location on South Main street. Indeed we have advanced far from the small grocery store on the corner, with its barrels and boxes and kegs to the beautiful up-to-date food palace demonstrated by this store, with its modern fixtures, and sanitary and attractively arranged stock of everything good to eat. The natural setting had assumed a "party look" with the lovely floral decorations sent by wholesalers and friends as "well wishers," and the callers were met by Mr. Middlebrooks and daughter, Miss Elizabeth Middlebrooks and son, Alva Dyke Middlebrooks, Pete Shields, Wilson Hall and Nolan Cagle representing the regular corps of courteous clerks, still further assisted by friends including Mrs. Dick Watkins, and Miss Moselle Lewis, while the wholesalers were represented by Miss Norma Turner, who told of the Rath Packing Co.; A. F. Wadley, assisted by Miss Vion Blizard demonstrated Corn Products, and Robert Milmoth boosted Heliotrope flour. Music for the occasion was furnished by the Hempstead County Lumber company, with Mrs. Ray Allen at the radio. Members of the local P. T. A. served Richelieu coffee, cakes and "Fresh" potato chips to all callers. The handy man in the rear of the store answered to the name of "Chick" who did his part toward making the occasion a complete success. The large building was thronged with people from 1 o'clock to the closing hour, and when the time for the drawing drew nigh, people were lined

Legislature Is to Have Single House

Unicameral System Is Adopted by Voters of State of Nebraska

HOPE, Ark., Nov. 8.—(AP)—The last of the two chambers for the Nebraska legislature was completed just in time for the 1933 session, but that convention next January will be the last two-house assembly in the capital.

Voters Tuesday overwhelmingly adopted the constitutional amendment sponsored by Senator George W. Norris for a unicameral legislature.

The size of the one-house legislature will determine whether the present senate chamber or the larger house chamber will be abandoned. The amendment calls for a legislature of 30 to 50 members.

The 1935 legislature will determine the number and fix the districts from which the members will be elected. If the legislature fails to do so, the governor will make the decision.

Although a few other states have had one-house legislatures at various times, none now has a single-chamber assembly.

A proposal to institute a one-house legislature in Arkansas was the subject of much debate in the constitutional convention in Arkansas in 1918. Associate Justice T. M. Mahaffy of the Arkansas Supreme Court recalled Thursday. Justice Mahaffy was president of the Arkansas convention. The unicameral plan was defeated in the convention and was not included in the new constitution, which itself was rejected later by the voters.

The Clara Lowthorp chapter C. of C. held their November meeting on Thursday afternoon at the home of Miss Evelyn Bryant, South Elm street, with Miss Mary Della White as joint hostess. The meeting was opened by the president, Miss Frances Snyder and the minutes of the previous meeting were read by Miss Claudia Whitworth. Mrs. R. T. White sponsor for the chapter announced that the Clara Lowthorp chapter had been awarded a beautiful cup for the greatest increase in membership, and discussed plans for entertaining the Children of Confederacy Convention meeting in Hope next June. In a short talk Mrs. Lowthorp, Arkansas division president, gave the highlights of the convention recently held in Blytheville and told why we say "The War Between the States" instead of "The Civil War." The time for meeting was changed from the second Thursday to the third Thursday in each month. Misses Lenora Routon and Mary Della White gave talks on Stonewall Jackson, the man, the warrior and the christian. A paper entitled "History of Arkansas," was read by Miss Katherine Mae Simms. Miss Frances Snyder read the words of "Arkansas," our state song. Following the program, the hostesses served a tempting salad course with hot chocolate.

Methodists Pass New Rotation Law

Elders Must Move on After Serving 4-Year Term, Church Rule

PINE BLUFF, Ark.—(P)—A proposed constitutional amendment of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, affecting the rotation of presiding elders, and recently referred to the constituency of the church for action, Friday was approved by the Little Rock conference, composed of south Arkansas districts.

The amendment provides that presiding elders who have served as the head of a district four consecutive years must be transferred to some other connection in the church for a four-year period.
